

Rishika Jain is a common law qualified advocate with over five years of experience across commercial law, corporate advisory, and international commercial arbitration. She is currently working as an Associate at Arendt & Medernach SA in Luxembourg, where her practice includes commercial contract work, cross-border advisory, and complex transactions.

Previously, Rishika worked with the Legal Team at Ambev (AB InBev Group) in Stockholm, where she advised on multi-jurisdictional commercial and regulatory issues across Europe, South America, North America, and the Caribbean. Her work included negotiating complex commercial and treasury-linked arrangements.

Rishika holds an LL.M. in International Commercial Arbitration Law (ICAL) from Stockholm University. Prior to moving in-house in Sweden, she worked with the Commercial Disputes Team at Numen Law Offices in New Delhi, where she represented clients in domestic and international arbitration and litigation matters. She also contributed to scholarly journals on topical issues relating to commercial law, and international arbitration. Her writing has been published in recognised legal journals and platforms, and she continues to engage in research and academic contribution.

She currently also serves as the National Representative for Sweden at the International Bar Association and is actively involved in professional and mentorship networks including Young ICCA, Young ITA, and the IWIA Steering Committee. She also regularly serves as an arbitrator and coach in the Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot, supporting advocacy training in international dispute resolution.
