

Vod K. S. Chan is a practising barrister with RW Chambers (formerly Ronny Wong, Senior Counsel's Chambers) in Hong Kong SAR (HK), with a practice spanning a wide spectrum of civil disputes.

He is also an active arbitrator and advocate in many arbitrations, including a cross-border investment and international financing of approximately half a billion dollars; an investment and convertible note purchase agreement of about three quarters of a billion dollars; a major financial arrangement involving a leading international bank; a significant fraud case concerning a leading bank in Hong Kong; stock trading disputes involving a licensed broker; transactions between sophisticated investors and international banks; major construction and engineering projects; enforcement of arbitral awards in construction and engineering disputes; international trading of industrial commodities; import/export contracts for strategic medical supplies in Asia; cross-border equipment contracts involving affiliates of Chinese multinational conglomerates; and, disputes concerning the provision of utility services in buildings.

He holds law degrees from the then University of London External Programmes (LLB), the University of HK (PCLL and LLM (Distinction)), and the City University of HK (LLMArbDr (Distinction)). He is also an accredited general mediator and a family mediation supervisor in HK.

Since January 2021, he has, from time to time, sat on the bench as Temporary Deputy Registrar of the District Court of the HK Judiciary, assisting parties in resolving disputes.

He serves as an arbitrator and panel member of many leading arbitration institutions and is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators. He frequently speaks and lectures on international arbitration.

In addition, he holds various public and professional appointments, including: Chair of the Buildings Appeal Tribunal; Member of the Torture Claims Appeal Board; Vice Chair of the Mediation Committee of the HIK Bar Association; Council Member of the HK Institute of Arbitrators; Member of the ICC-HK Standing Committee on Arbitration & ADR; Member of the Appointment Committee of the Financial Dispute Resolution Centre; Member of the Proceedings Committee of the International Online Dispute Resolution Centre; and, Member of the Legal Support Steering Committee of the HK Family Welfare Society.